MARGARET DUDLEY.

A STORY OF RHODE-ISLAND.

Captain Granger however did not moralize in this style on his own case, as he rolled away from the "Crown," behind the Colonel's fat-black horses on his way to Dudley Farm. Perhaps if he could have looked a little way into the future he would have bade his politeness a most unceremonious adieu, and hastened back to Tom Bannister and his bachelor enjoyments. He would not have done it however, at any moment after they had wheeled into the wide green lawn which surrounded the house, and had caught a glimpse of our heroine as she sat with her tambourine in the deep porch of the farm-house. When she rose to receive her father and his guest, and courtesied to him in her demurest manner, he would not have returned to the "Crown" for all the Toms and Jacks in the world. The glance of those dark eyes, gentle as they seemed, with the long lashes drooping modestly down over them had gone through and through the enchanted armor and reached a depth in his heart where eyes feminine or masculine had never pierced before.

Courtship is a tedious affair at best to all parties, but those immediately interested; and when the love is all upon one side, as in the present instance, it is certainly not worth our while to inflict upon the reader a full detail of the various arts by which the Captain pressed his suit. As a highly accomplished man, familiar with the world, it was not difficult for him to render himself a most delightful accession to the household of Dudley Farm; and it was with the utmost sincerity that both the Colonel and his daughter urged the prolongation of his visit.

It was in vain however that he attempted to discover the real feeling of Margaret towards him. In the social intercourse of the sexes at that day there was a degree of stately politeness, a somewhat rigid etiquette, that served equally well to hide the secrets of a tender or a designing heart. Young ladies had not then learned that happy air of assurance, that easy freedom of speech and manner which with their grandchildhood is supposed to constitute the extreme of elegance, and which has made of great a change in the speed of travel on the road of courtship, as steam has introduced into other journeys. In those days lovers travelled after the manner of the Colonel's state-coach;—slowly and with great dignity;—and going over the whole ground most faithfully.

The days flew rapidly, and the Captain's leave of absence had almost expired before he felt prepared to strike a decisive blow. To have made a formal proposition to the young lady herself before obtaining her father's consent would in those days have injured alike his character as a gentleman, and his prospects as a lover. So wisely selecting the favorable moment when the Colonel was tenderly chipping the wax from the cork of his second after dinner bottle of port, Captain Granger in due form proposed for the hand of Miss Margaret Dudley.

The Colonel, like most simple-hearted men, was apt to chuckle over any unexpected good fortune which happened to him as a piece of rare good management on his part; and he held up his glass and winked confidentially at it before replying, as much as to say:—

"Ah, Dudley, you sly old dog, you have done it very cleverly!"

But the consent which he expressed in words was of course phrased in a very different manner, and was such as became a gentleman in bestowing a daughter whom he loved upon a suitor who pleased him. He would gladly have had the Captain ratify the treaty with a third bottle of the "yellow seal"; but the latter, whose time was precious just then, excused himself, and the old soldier was obliged to finish it alone.

Captain Granger at once sought an interview with Miss Dudley, and threw himself at her feet in the most appropriate style. The result may easily be surmised. The pure, high-hearted girl who had seen in his attentions only the courtesies of a guest beneath her father's roof was inexpressibly pained by the revelation. So anxious was she to convince him of her perfect innocence of intentional trifling, that she guiltlessly told him the whole story of her attachment to Frank Tillinghast, whom the Captain had already met, but looked upon simply as a clever country lad.

Captain Granger, of His Majesty's 22d Foot, a most irresistible lady-killer was refused in favor of a Rhode Island farmer's son! As soon as his astonished senses could be made to believe that it actually was so, he posted back to his intended father-in-law in a state of mind "easier imagined than described," as authors say when they wish to save themselves the trouble of description. The Colonel, who was as comfortable as three bottles of good brandy port under his belt could make him, opened his eyes in astonishment at such a freak of womankind and assured him that all would be right in the morning.

Morning came, and the old gentleman had a long conversation with his daughter; but its only result was that Captain Granger took the next packet for New York, that Miss Dudley with very red eyes went quietly about her household duties, and that Frank Tillinghast, when he came dashing into the yard next day on his black mare, was very briefly informed by the Colonel that—not intending to hurt Mr. Tillinghast's feelings, or use any harsh language, he trusted that he would discontinue his visits at Dudley Farm, or—(said the Colonel, suddenly exploding from his state of forced politeness,) he would be d—d if he didn't shoot him!

The heavens hung very dark over the young farmer as he turned and rode slowly away.

FRIDAY MORNING, FEB. 5, 1858.

Masonic Festival.—Constitution and Consecration of What-Cheer Lodge, No. 21, of Providence.

We were fortunately honored with an invitation to attend the above named ceremonies and Festival, during a recent stay in Providence, and were so much pleased, that we intended, had our memory served us, to have given quite an extended editorial notice of the proceedings, but as we find them detailed quite fully and truthfully in the Providence Post, we have decided to clip the report given by that journal. It will be seen that our visit to the festival was not without the occasion to the honor of his native place and the satisfaction of all present. We modestly enjoyed ourselves amid the various pleasures of the evening, and fortunately withdrew before the occasion of immortalization as an orator became apparent.

"The ceremonies of Constitution and Consecration of What-Cheer Lodge, No. 21, and the Installation of its officers, took place in Mason's Hall, Tuesday evening, in the presence of the Free and Accepted Brethren, and a large company of invited guests, including many beautiful and accomplished ladies, the wives, sisters and sweethearts of the members of the fraternity.

At six o'clock, the Grand Lodge was escorted to the hall by the What-Cheer Lodge, and the several officers having taken their stations, prayer was offered by the Rev. Mr. Taylor, of Pawtucket, Grand Chaplain. An appropriate hymn was then sung by a fine choir, under the direction of Mr. J. B. Borden. The Grand Lodge was then by the Grand Secretary, and the officers of the new Lodge were presented to the Grand Master, who, after receiving the assurance of the brethren that they were still satisfied with their choice, ordered that the consecrating ceremonies proceed.

Another hymn was sung, when a procession of the officers of the Grand Lodge was formed, and after surrounding the Master's carpet, the corn, wine and oil were presented in due form, and the consecrating prayer offered by the Grand Chaplain.

The Grand Chaplain then dedicated the Lodge in the following terms:—"To the memory of those who have lived and died in the love of God and man, we dedicate this Lodge. May every Brother revere his character and imitate his virtues." "Glory be to God on high."

The Grand Master constituted the new Lodge in the following form:—"In the name of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge, I now constitute and form you, Accepted Brethren, into a Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons. From henceforth I empower you to act as a regular Lodge, constituted in conformity to the rites of our Order, and the charges of our ancient and honorable Fraternity; and may the supreme Architect of the Universe prosper, direct and counsel you in all your doings."

After the singing of another hymn, the officers were installed and invested with their jewels. The ceremonies closed with music by the choir, and a benediction.

His Excellency Gov. Byer was present during the interesting ceremonies, seated on the left of the Grand Master, and upon retiring, was greeted with "grand honors." To this salute, His Excellency responded in a brief and pertinent speech, in which he spoke of his esteem for the members of the Masonic fraternity, and in closing, bade them God speed in their worthy enterprise.

After a brief interval devoted to friendly greeting, with here and there a mystic sign, the Band (Greene & Brown's) meanwhile discoursing an excellent music, the signposts, that needed no interpreter, gathered the Masons and their guests around

After the lapse of half an hour thus spent, Grand Master Hutchinson's gavel rapped order out of confusion, when he introduced Col. C. Van Zandt, of Newport, as toast-master of the occasion.

The Colonel then proceeded to announce the regular toasts:

1. The President of the United States.—The Keystone of our Royal Arch Masons.

2. The State of Rhode Island.—The Faith of her founders was pure and beautiful; the Hope emblazoned upon her escutcheon is more than realized, and her Charity is blessed by the widow and orphan.

To this sentiment Ex-Gov. Hopkin said it would give him pleasure to respond in a few words. But he said was very wide; the banner of the fraternity waves in every clime under heaven. Mr. Hopkin depicted the conduct of the true Mason, in alleviating suffering, succoring the distressed, and aiding and sustaining his weak or desponding brother in times of sickness and agony; and said he was giving no false advice, but speaking of incidents that are daily and hourly occurring all over the world. Although they may be strangers in a strange land, the trust reposed by one Mason in another is sacred, and the principle of the fraternity, as he understood it, was that no brother should raise his hand against his brother. And who shall ever tell, asked Gov. Hopkin, how many treasonable plots against the government have been balked and overthrown by the influence of this order, one of whose principles is, that no Mason shall entertain treason in his heart or acts against the government? The speaker alluded to the mysterious symbols of the order as a key to many a coveted field of interest and information in the old world, and closed with an allusion to the Island of Delos, which in the story is said to have been consecrated to peace, and a disturbing influence being allured within its hallowed bosoms, and remarked that he looked upon this institution as a sort of Delos, where men of different nations, religions and political views can meet on peaceful terms of freedom and equality. Gov. Hopkin closed his address with the following sentiment:

The Masonic Brotherhood.—An association professedly founded on "the practice of virtue and the inculcation of the principles of Brotherly Love, Relief, and Truth." Correctly has it been said of this association, that the highest and most beneficent men, whatever their race or their nation, even royalty itself have been proud and gratified to acknowledge themselves members of it.

3. The City of Providence.—Measure for measure should be her motto; for her first Indian chieftain was a rude man, and her present Chief Magistrate is a Rude-man.

His Honor the Mayor being necessarily absent, Mr. Thos. A. Doyle was called upon for every quarter. Mr. Doyle arose and said "he didn't know why a man who was thrice in the field for the office and thrice defeated, should be called upon to speak for the Mayor. He then paid a handsome tribute to the merit of Mayor Tolman, and proceeded to remark that another link had just been forged in the great chain that binds the world together. "What is cheer?" he said, "is a word that constantly reminds us of our own loved city, and fitsly has our sister Lodge chosen for a name. When ages hence, it is interrogated shall be asked, the story of Roger Williams will be told, and the memory of the illustrious founder of our commonwealth will be kept green in the hearts of those who shall come after us. Mr. Doyle recited with fine effect the following lines written by Mr. Morris, of Ky.

We meet upon the Level, and part upon the Square,

What words of precious meaning those words

Masons are.

Come let us contemplate them, they are worthy of our thought,

With the highest and the lowest and the rarest

they are fraught.

We meet upon the Level, though from every station come,

The King from out his palace, and the poor man from his home;

For the one must leave his diadem outside the

Mason's door,

And the other folds his train respect upon the chequered floor.

We part upon the Square, for the world must have its due,

We mingle with its multitude, a cold unfriendly crew;

But the influence of our gatherings in memory

is green,

And we long upon the Level to renew the happy scene.

There is a world where all are equal—we are hurrying towards it fast,

We shall meet upon the Level there, when the gates of death are passed,

We shall stand before the Orient, and our Master will be there.

To try the blocks we offer by his own unerring

Square.

We shall meet upon the Level there, but never thence depart,

There is a mission—"It is all ready for each trusting faithful heart;

There is a mission and a welcome, and a multitude is there

Who have met upon the Level, and been tried upon the Square.

Let us meet upon the Level then, while laboring patient here,

Let us meet and let us labor, though the labor

seem severe,

Already in the western sky the signs bid us prepare

To gather up our working tools, and part upon the Square.

Hands round, ye faithful Masons, form the bright fraternal chain,

We part upon the Square below to meet in heaven again;

Oh what words of precious meaning those words

Masons are—

We meet upon the Level, and we part upon the Square.

Mr. Doyle closed with the following sentiment:

What-Cheer Lodge.—May it go on prospering the compact part of the City, as referred to special Committee to report, concurred in, and Messrs. Stevens, Peckham and Townsend, appointed on the part of this Board.

Resolution relative to an act incorporating the City of Newport, and the acts in amendment thereof, concurred in Report of Committee on Engine No. 8, as referred back to Committee, concurred in.

Correspondence of the Daily News.

New York, Feb. 1, 1858.

Mr. Editor:—Newspaper readers are so apt to relish accounts of murder cases and murder trials, and other horrors, that I suppose I ought to notice the trial of Maurice O'Connell, which has been going on for some days past, in the Oyer and Terminer, for the murder of a Swiss widow woman named Teresa Spitzlein, at a house of ill repute in Greenwich street. The culprit is but 19 years of age, and three other young fellows implicated with him in the same offence, are awaiting trial. The evidence in O'Connell's case was closed on Saturday, and looks badly against him.

The summing up by counsel is going on, to day.

The lecture season is at its height in this latitude, and balls, theatres and other popular amusements seem to flourish in spite of dull times and hard ones. Edward Everett has lately pronounced his Washington monument oration at the Academy of Music; and he will to-morrow evening, by request, give a charity lecture there for the benefit of the Woman's Protective Emigration Society. Doct. J. W. Francis, the city antiquary, Rev. E. H. Chapin, Rev. Dr. Bethune, Rev. H. W. Beecher, and any number of other celebrities are in the field as lecturers before Historical, Library and other associations.

The personal character and conduct of the late noted Aaron Burr has been "hauled over the coals," with a good deal of earnestness, by sundry newspaper writers, within a few days past—the subject having been raised, or perhaps I should say provoked, by Mr. Parton's biography of Burr, lately published. Mr. P.'s book I have not read, but I understand that he vindicates Col. Burr's reputation, with much success, against the common impression of his artful and gross immorality—an impression to which his former biographer, Mr. Davis, seemed rather to flatter, by his reference to certain epistolary proofs thereof, which he claims to have destroyed, from a friendly regard to Col. B.'s memory.

Mr. Street Commissioner Conover has developed another large batch of frauds and swindlings alleged to have been made upon the city treasury by sundry persons, including Charles, Deylin, (the Wood-appointed competitor of Mr. Conover for this same street department) in collusion with some one or more of the former inmates of the office. If there are ten thorough honest men to be found in the city, folks will begin to think, ere long, that they had better be set to guard the treasury.

Rumor saith that Ex-Mayor Wood hath lately made a pilgrimage to Slaveland, and had an interview with that modern Solomon, Governor Wise, of Virginia, whereat it was unanimously resolved that the Wise Governor aforesaid should be the Democratic candidate for the Presidency, to succeed Old Buck, and that the Wood-en Ex-Mayor should be his trusty squire and champion. So saith Rumor; but whether truly or no I cannot positively avouch.

THIRTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

First Session.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, Feb. 3.

SENATE.

Mr. Davis introduced a bill for the relief of the officers and soldiers of the army who were stationed at Fort Kearney, Nebraska Territory, previous to March 1st, 1853.

The following House bills were passed:—

To alter the time for holding the United States Courts in South Carolina, and for the payment of invalid and other pensions.

The unfinished business of yesterday was then resumed.

Mr. Wilson offered an amendment to the motion to refer the message of the President on Kansas to the committee on territories similar to that submitted by Mr. Harris in the House.

HOUSE.

The sergeant-at-arms informed the Speaker, that, pursuant to the order of the House, he had caused the arrest of Mr. J. D. Williamson and had him in custody.

Mr. Stanton offered a resolution that Mr. Williamson be arraigned before the bar of the House, when the Speaker should propound the following questions:—

First—What expense have you for not appearing before the select committee in pursuance of the summons to do so on the 27th of January.

Second—Are you now ready to appear before said committee and answer such proper questions as may be propounded to you, the answers to be in writing and under oath?

The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Stanton moved that Mr. Williamson be remanded to the custody of the sergeant-at-arms, and that he have until to-morrow at one o'clock to make his answers.

Mr. S. said this was agreeable to the prisoner, with whom he had conversed on the subject.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. Glancy Jones, from the committee on ways and means, reported the army appropriation bill.

Mr. Hascok, from the committee on naval affairs, made a report from the majority, concluding with a resolution that the act of Commodore Paulding in arresting General Walker and his followers was not authorized by the instructions given him by the Navy Department; that while the committee will have no reason to believe that Commodore Paulding acted from any improper motive or intention, yet they regard it as a grave error which calls for the disapproval of the American Congress.

Mr. Sherman reported from the minority of the committee a resolution, that Commodore Paulding in arresting General Walker and his associates and punishing them, in the United States acted within the spirit of his instructions and deserves the approbation of his country.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir:—I take pleasure in bearing voluntary testimony, to the magic effects of your wonderful Hair Restorative. As far back as 1833 my hair commenced falling off, until the top of my scalp became bald and smooth as glass, and it has continued to fall for a great many years, notwithstanding I have used many celebrated preparations for its restoration. Seeing your advertisement, I was induced to give your article a trial, and to my utter astonishment, I found after a few applications that my hair became firmly set, and assumed a very glossy and beautiful appearance, and by the time I had used a quart bottle, my hair had grown covered over with a young and vigorous growth of hair, which is now from one to two inches in length, and growing very fast.
Yours truly,
HANNY GOODING.

READ! READ! READ!
Ye afflicted with the following Certificate of cure of over 21 years' standing:
H. T. HELMOLD—Dear Sir:—I have been troubled with an affection of the Bladder and Kidneys for over twenty years. I have tried physicians in vain, and at last concluded to give your genuine preparation a trial, as I had heard highly spoken of. It afforded me immediate relief. I have used three bottles, and I have obtained more relief from its effects and feel much better than I have for twenty years previous. I have the greatest faith in its virtues and curative powers, and shall do all in my power to make it known to the afflicted. Hoping this may prove advantageous to you in leading you to introduce the medicine. I am truly yours,
M. McCORMICK.
Lewisburg, Pa., Jan. 28, 1857.
Should any doubt Mr. McCormick's statement, he refers to the following gentlemen:
Hon. Wm. Bigler, ex-Governor, Pennsylvania.
Hon. Thos. B. Florence, Philadelphia.
Hon. J. C. Knox, Judge, Toga Co., Pa.
Hon. J. S. Black, Judge, Philadelphia.
Hon. D. R. Porter, ex-Governor, Pennsylvania.
Hon. Ellis Lewis, Judge, Philadelphia.
Hon. R. C. Grider, Judge U. S. Court.
Hon. G. W. Woodward, Judge, Philadelphia.
Hon. W. A. Porter, City Solicitor, Philadelphia.
Hon. John Bigler, ex-Governor, California.
Hon. E. Banks, Auditor General, Washington, D. C.
And many others, if necessary.
ALPINE HAIR BALM
Restoring Grey Hair to its original Color.
It warranted to cure Baldness, Scurf, Dandruff, itching and all diseases of the skin. This Balm gives the scalp a new and healthy action; restores the coloring matter to the roots of the hair, which passes through the hair and gives a natural color without the use of Hairs Dye.
It keeps the hair from falling off.

Mr. Mason, Sir:—I have found a Hair Restorative, your Alpine Balm, which has not merely changed the gray locks for their original, but has given them a glossy hue, which before they never had.
EREMIAH S. ROSS,
129 Wickenden street,
Providence, May 20, 1857.
Providence, July 30, 1857.
C. A. P. Mason, Dear Sir:—I am now using the Alpine Hair Balm, which I had of you, with most happy results. On the 30th of June last, my hair which had been gray for more than six years was fast falling off; but on the third application of the Balm it ceased falling, and is now firmly rooted, and very nearly its original color. By the use of one bottle, I confidently expect a complete, permanent, luxuriant and original head of hair. I feel very gray haired and old, and I feel that I would soon become "Bring epistles, known and read of all men," as having used the Alpine Hair Balm. Yours, &c.
JOHN P. TRESCOTT,
227 Westminster street, Providence.

TESTIMONY OF A LADY OVER 50 YEARS OF AGE.
Mr. Mason, Sir:—I write to inform you how pleased I am with your Alpine Hair Balm. My hair has been gray for a number of years, and I have been obliged to wear a front piece when having a bonnet on to keep the front piece from working loose, and showing the white hair. Finally I concluded to try your Alpine Hair Balm; I used one bottle only, and my hair has come back to its natural color, which was brown. My hair is now perfectly free from dandruff and is soft and glossy.
Very respectfully,
SARAH LYON.

ROSE COMBROUX—Don Juan's Rose Compound for the hair, is unequalled for cleaning the human head, giving the hair a rich, silky and lustrous appearance; rendering it soft, preventing baldness, restoring the hair that has fallen off, effectually curing scurf, and in fact, giving to the whole head those natural beauties which are the delight of the senses. The pleasure of youth, and the joy of old age. Sole proprietors, John G. Hazard, No. 135 Broad Street, Providence.
CAUTION TO LADIES.—A lady residing in Stamford, Conn., was very severely burned on Friday evening last. She had been applying to her hair a mixture of castor oil and alcohol, and approaching too near a lighted lamp her head became enveloped in a blaze, and the flame was not extinguished until the lady was so severely burned that she is in a critical condition. "Woman's Friend," Oct. 23th.
Don Juan's Rose Compound is the only safe, elegant, and truly efficacious Hair Preparation sold, and is winning golden opinions from all classes of people. It is a gentle, sugar of lead or lac sulphur, and will restore the hair in every instance where restoration is possible by any means, and preserve it in a healthy, luxuriant condition. In bottles at 25 cents, 50 cents and 75 cents. Who, then, will use inflammable, greasy and poisonous compounds, when the real de-deration can be procured at so small expense?

DR. MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS.
DR. MORSE, the inventor of MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS, has spent the greater part of his life in travelling, having visited Europe, Asia, and Africa, as well as North America—has spent three years among the Indians of our western country. It was in this way that the Indian Root Pills were first discovered. Dr. Morse was the first man to establish the fact that all diseases arise from impurity of the blood—that our strength, health and life depended upon this vital fluid. When the various passages become clogged, and do not act in perfect harmony with the different functions of the body, the blood loses its action, becomes thick, corrupted and diseased; thus causing in all parts sickness and distress of every kind. Our strength is exhausted, our health is impaired, and our future is not assisted in clearing off the stagnant humors, the blood will become clogged and cease to act, and thus our light of life will forever be blotted out. How important then that we should keep the various passages of the body free and open. And how pleasant to us that we have it in our power to put a medicine in your reach, namely, Morse's Indian Root Pills, manufactured from pure and noble roots which grow around the mountainous cliffs in Nature's garden, for the health and recovery of diseased man. One of the roots from which these Pills are made is a Sassafras, which opens the pores of the skin, and assists Nature in throwing out the fine impurities of the corruption within. The second is a plant which is an Expectant, that opens and unclogs the passage to the lungs, and thus, in a soothing manner, performs its duty by throwing off phlegm, and other humors from the lungs by copious spitting. The third is a Linnet, which gives ease and double strength to the kidneys; thus encouraged, they draw out the impurities of impurity from the blood, which is then thrown out beautifully by the urinary or water passage, and which could not have been discharged in any other way. The fourth is a Cathartic, and accounts for the other properties of the Pills which purify the impurities of the blood; the coarser particles of impurity which cannot pass by the other outlets, are thus taken up and conveyed off in great quantities by the bowels.
From the above, it is shown that Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills not only enter the stomach, but become united with the blood, for they find and cleanse the system from all impurity, and the life of the body, which is the blood, becomes perfectly healthy; consequently all sickness and pain is driven from the system, for they cannot remain when the body becomes so pure and clear.
The reason why people are so distressed when sick, and why so many die, is because they do not get a medicine which will pass to the afflicted parts, and which will open the natural passages for the disease to be cast out; hence, a large quantity of food and other matter is lodged, and the stomach and intestines are literally overflowing with the corrupted mass; constantly undergoing disagreeable fermentation, which throws the corrupt matter through every vein and artery, until life is taken from the body by disease. Dr. Morse's Pills have added to themselves victory upon victory, by restoring millions of the sick to blooming health and happiness. Yes, thousands who have been racked or tormented with sickness, pain and anguish, and whose feeble frames have been scorched by the burning elements of raging fever, and who have been brought, as it were, within a step of the silent grave, have been numbered with the dead, had it not been for this great and wonderful medicine, Morse's Indian Root Pills. After one or two doses had been taken, they were astonished, and absolutely surprised, in witnessing their charming effects. Not only do they give immediate ease and strength, and take away all sickness, pain and anguish, but they at once go to work at the foundation of the disease which is the blood. Therefore, it will be shown, especially by those who use these Pills, that they will so cleanse and purify, that disease—that deadly enemy—will take its flight, and the flush of youth and beauty will again return, and the prospect of a long and happy life will elate and brighten your days.

TRUSS MANUFACTORY.
All the Trusses formerly made by JAMES BATHURST died in 1855, and all the kinds of Trusses made by others in Boston, and elsewhere, are now made by
JAMES F. FOSTER.
REMOVAL.—J. F. FOSTER, manufacturer of Trusses, has moved from his old stand 50 Washington street, to HOYLESTON HALL, Room No. 3, over Boylston Market, corner of Hoyleston and Washington streets, Boston, and keeps constantly on hand a full supply of Trusses of the latest improvement, and adapted for both sexes; also a large variety of Abdominal Supporters, at wholesale and retail, having for a number of years been engaged in the manufacture and making up of these instruments, and has a special skill several thousands to persons within the past few years, and he is now confident that he can give every individual relief who may be disposed to call on him. Ladies wishing for any of these instruments will be attended to by Mrs. FOSTER, at any of their residences, or at the above place, where a room is provided for all those who call. Persons ordering these Trusses by mail, and giving dimensions, and saying right or left, can have them sent to any part of the country, by express, and at as low a price as they can be had at any other place—$1 to $3 single, $4 to $5 double. These Trusses will be done up in such a manner that no one will know the contents of the package but the person receiving it.
